Art Unit: 2874

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. § 121:

- I. Claims 1-32 and 41-48, drawn to a data processing method for photocomposing a waveguide, along with a computer command storage medium for such method, classified in class 700, subclass 117+.
- II. Claims 33-40, drawn to a tapered reticle, classified in class 359, subclass 428.
- III. Claims 49-56, drawn to a tapered waveguide, classified in class 385, subclass 43.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because:

Inventions I and III are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the product (tapered waveguide) as claimed can be made by a mechanical process such as laser ablation.

Inventions I and II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because there is no requirement in the combination claims that a reticle be tapered (note that claim 41, which includes a tapered reticle as one of many, does not require selection of the tapered reticle). The subcombination has separate utility such as in an optical reading device.

Art Unit: 2874

Inventions II and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions have different modes of operation. The tapered waveguide operates on the principle of total internal reflection (TIR), whereas the tapered reticle operates on the principle of refraction.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

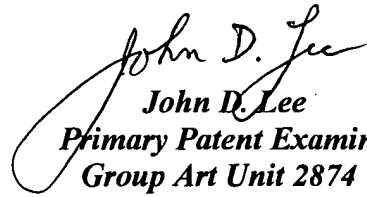

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR § 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR § 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR § 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR § 1.17(i).
